RFNL PREVIEW

Leeton-Whitton Crows v Coolamon Rovers

Leeton-Whitton will head into the final month of the competition refreshed after last week's bye. They'll need to be because they finish with games against four formidable opponents.

They start by welcoming Coolamon to Leeton Showground, fresh from knocking Griffith off the top of the table.

The Rovers have been a hard team to catch this season but there's no doubt their best has been good enough to match it with anyone. They defeated the Swans by 23 points last week, a result that keeps them in the hunt for the minor premiership, despite sitting in fourth spot on the table.

It was a number of Coolamon's younger brigade that led the charge in last week's win with BJ Glyde, Campbell Mattingly and Aiden Macauley all shining. Competition for spots is a weekly battle at Kindra Park and that should be enough alone to keep the standards high heading into the clash with the Crows.

Leeton-Whitton went down by 82 points to Coolamon earlier in the season and will have their sights set on bettering the mark, at least, at home on Saturday.

Prediction: Coolamon by 72 points

Narrandera Eagles v Mangoplah-Cookardinia United-Eastlakes Goannas

The dream now looks over for Mangoplah-Cookardinia United-Eastlakes after they slumped to a fourth consecutive loss last weekend. Their four-goal loss to Turvey Park puts them a game and a half outside the top five with just a month to play.

While there is mathematically a chance, they say they'll keep pushing so the trip to Narrandera is an important one.

The winless Eagles were trounced by Ganmain-Grong Grong-Matong to the tune of 107 points last week. They have four more tough games to go so coach Shaun Brooker will be doing everything he can to try and keep morale and standards as high as possible.

Luke McKay continued his outstanding season with another strong display last week but he needs more help from some of his senior players.

MCUE are by no means flying so this is an opportunity for Narrandera to get into a contest and see what happens from there.

Prediction: MCUE by 60 points

RFNL PREVIEW

Griffith Swans v Ganmain-Grong Grong-Matong Lions

The Lions have snuck under the radar somewhat, going from fighting for their spot in the five to ladder leaders in the space of a month.

GGGM moved to top spot on the ladder, via percentage, with a 107-point shellacking of Narrandera. The positive signs for the Lions are that midfielder Matt Hamblin is back at his best and he's one of, if not the best, players in the competition when up and firing. The surprise move of Ben Walsh back to life as a forward has also proved effective, returning 13 goals over the past two weeks. The question with the Lions is have they lost too much to injury etc, and will they get as many back as possible for a tilt at back-to-back flags. It appears at this stage that they're travelling well enough and if they can finish on top, they'll get every chance.

Sam Daniel got to learn very quickly what a rollercoaster senior coaching can be. Fresh from a good win over Turvey Park, the Swans failed to measure up to Coolamon last week, for the second time this year.

The Swans are still a serious minor premiership player, with games against Narrandera, Collingullie and Wagga Tigers to finish the year. A win here would go a long way to securing a top three finish, at the very least, but they'll have to be better than what they were last week.

Prediction: Griffith by 6 points

Turvey Park Bulldogs v Collingullie-Glenfield Park Demons

The story of Collingullie's resurrection just keeps getting better, as they made it five in a row with a win over Wagga Tigers in unusual circumstances last week.

Concerns surrounding a serious neck injury for Matt Klemke forced the game to be called off 10 minutes into the final term, after the Demons had kicked the first three goals of the quarter to storm to an eight-point lead.

It was Collingullie's leaders that led the charge last week with coach Nick Perryman, the Klemke brothers and Kane Flack all enjoying big games. They're now in the top five and will be looking to continue their winning form when they face the Bulldogs.

Turvey Park got back to winning ways, hammering a nail in the coffin of Mangoplah-Cookardinia United-Eastlakes' season. It was a much-needed and timely return to form for the Bulldogs and keeps them in the hunt for the minor premiership, as they sit second only percentage behind GGGM.

Luke Fellows, Antony Forato, Ethan Weidemann and Brad Ashcroft led the turnaround last weekend. When these four are playing their best footy, Turvey Park are always thereabouts. There isn't a team going better at the moment than Collingullie so this will be a good opportunity to test just how well the Bulldogs are going as they look to land another scalp at home.

Prediction: Collingullie-GP by 8 points

'Earning the respect of the Farrer League'

BARELLAN can take a giant step towards ending a sizable Farrer League finals drought when they welcome Charles Sturt University on Saturday.

The Two Blues haven't played finals football, in first grade, since their return to the Farrer League in 2015 and can move inside the top five with two rounds to play with victory over the Bushpigs on Saturday.

It's something that has excited the Two Blues playing group, their supporters and the entire Barellan community.

But it's not just on-field where Barellan is on the improve. The club as a whole is proud of their progression in their ninth year back in the Farrer League.

"I think our thing is, and it's nothing alarming or sensational, it's our very steady growth in terms of netball strength, our football strength and our facilities out at Barellan," club president Jeff Mickan said.

"Obviously the facility is council owned but we have a fair bit of input into that and try to steer that a little.

"Nearly every year we've been in the Farrer we've improved, although in a football sense very modestly."

While the weekend will decide whether Barellan sit inside or outside the top five, the Two Blues netballers are gearing up for a finals campaign.

All of Barellan's netball teams look destined for finals, with A grade sitting in third spot and their 17s on top of the ladder.

"We were reasonably strong right at the start in netball and we've certainly done quite well in the lower grades," Mickan said.

"The netball and football, it attracts couples, it's a happy feeling around the club, things are rolling along nicely and you're getting male and female participation in the club."

While the Barellan Sportsground facility is council-owned, the Two Blues take great pride in it and are always working in with local government officials to improve the set up.

New changerooms were built a few seasons back, now rivaling any in the competition, while new goalposts were added this year.

'Earning the respect of the Farrer League'

"A viewing area is under construction at the moment, between the bar and press box, to improve spectators' experience.

New netball courts, a new scoreboard and exploring a cover for the cricket pitch are all on the agenda as well.

"It's a slow burn but there's constantly something happening," Mickan said.

The netball, football and facilities all come together nicely as the club strives for constant growth.

Mickan believes Barellan's commitment to improvement is part of the reason the club's reputation is strong in the football community.

"I think the way we're perceived from the outside. I think, and this is my biased option, but I think we're perceived as a club that you would like to play at," Mickan said.

"I think we've recruited the right types of players that fit our family football club. They then in turn help bring other people as well."

And that reputation and respect from rival clubs hasn't been earned by accident.

"We work at that," Mickan added.

"That's something we try to instill in our playing group. Try and support the other clubs when we're away.

"It's not just falling in place naturally. It's pushed a little bit and something I personally love is that interaction with other clubs post-game.

"I'd like to think other clubs would like to follow that lead."

RISING STAR

Netball - Sophie Male

Sophie's first year of A-grade and one of Barellan's exciting new junior players making her mark in the senior competition. Sophie plays in the centre court and already is showing dominance over many senior players. Her natural defensive game and her ability to read play with her speed, agility and skill level is quickly establishing herself in the A grade competition.

We have no doubt she will continue to grow into a top A grade netballer.

Football - Will Ellis

Will Ellis was a returning junior back to Barellan this year.

Will has played a variety of roles for us up forward while also pushing up the ground to the wing and midfield.

Will has flourished up forward, playing big and small and providing a strong target testing opposition in the air and on the ground kicking 17 goals so far this season.

Will had a standout game vs Colleambelly early in the season winning best on ground, showing everyone what he is capable of.

Barellan is excited for what Will will produce in the years ahead.

VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR

Jacque Overs

Jacque has worked tirelessly for the club for many years and officially held the position of treasurer (2016-2022) and secretary (2022-2023) and has unofficially helped almost every other position in the committee.

She does all of this behind the scenes never stepping forward to take credit for the work she has helped to achieve.

Jacque has been a driving force between the club cohesion and setting positive example of what Barellan culture is ie inclusivity, acknowledging the work of every volunteer or any contribution made to the club big or small, everyone is welcomed and valued and most of all she brings professionalism to the running of our club.

She has been an integral driver of bringing the football and netball to unite as one club both at an administrative level and socially. She supports the club as a whole from 1st grade and A-grade right through to Auskick and NetSetGo. She was also a vocal advocate for saving our junior club.

She has an inherent understanding of what the clubs means to the town and wider community and keeps this in the forefront of her mind in her decision making process. She acknowledges everyone involved in the club whether your the brand new member or been a long term member, she will always greet you with a smile and make you feel welcomed.

Jacque is an integral part to the future success of BUNFC.

FFNL PREVIEW

Barellan Two Blues v Charles Sturt University Bushpigs

All eyes will be on Barellan Sportsground on Saturday when Barellan and Charles Sturt University battle it out in the race for a finals spot.

CSU turned the competition on its head last week when they became the first team to topple The Rock-Yerong Creek. The Bushpigs piled on nine unanswered goals during the early stages of the contest to enjoy a 20-point win.

You'd think a team being the first team to defeat the previously undefeated Magpies would be assured a finals spot but that's not the case. They are still fighting for their place in the top five and a win over Barellan on Saturday would all but do it. If Lachie Holmes, Lachie Moore and Trent Cohalan can get on top again in the midfield, and CSU use the ball as well as they did last week, they'll take some stopping.

Barellan come in good form with wins in three of their past five games. Their two losses were against TRYC and Marrar and they put up a good fight in both of those. The run and speed of Dean Schmetzer, Hugh McKenzie and Jack Carroll-Tape has been causing trouble for teams all year and now Jason Taylor is beginning to find some serious form. The Two Blues haven't played finals since their return to the Farrer League and they'll be throwing everything at this one in a bid to get back there.

Prediction: CSU by 10 points

Marrar Bombers v North Wagga Saints

Marrar will be looking for their sixth straight win in what is just their second last hit-out before finals.

The Bombers made it five on the trot with a 45-point win over Temora last Saturday. Blake Walker continues to build an impressive season with a five-goal haul while Zach Walgers and Toby Lawler continued their good form with good performances.

North Wagga, like they've done a lot this year, were good for a half against Barellan last week before being overrun. They were more than competitive for large parts against Marrar earlier in the year so it wouldn't surprise to see them do the same again here.

Josh Thompson, Luke Mauger and Ky Hanlon have been playing good for the Saints and they will need big games again here to get anywhere near the Bombers.

Prediction: Marrar by 55 points

FFNL PREVIEW

East Wagga-Koorringal Hawks v Northern Jets

Northern Jets have had a week to sit on their latest loss to The Rock-Yerong Creek and you'd expect a strong response when they travel to Gumly Oval on Saturday.

The Jets should get Sam and Jack Fisher back from injury for the clash and be hitting the Hawks full-strength three weeks out from finals, which is perfect.

The Hawks on the other hand are far from that. It's been a disastrous season, injury wise, but they did enough to overcome Coleambally by nine points on the road last week. They will get Jarrod Boumann back from suspension and Tom Tyson from overseas for starters. They need to start getting some key personnel back if they are to be any chance of building some momentum for a premiership tilt. And they need to cement their finals spot first and that should come with a win in any of their three remaining games, which are against the Jets, CSU and The Rock-Yerong Creek.

EWK will need Boumann and Tyson to have an impact upon return, plus the likes of Luke Cuthbert, Brocke Argus and Jarrod Turner to continue their good form to be any chance of a sudden turnaround here.

Prediction: Northern Jets by 34 points

The Rock-Yerong Creek Magpies v Coleambally Blues

For the first time this season, The Rock-Yerong Creek will be looking to bounce back when they host Coleambally on Saturday.

The Magpies had their colours lowered by an impressive CSU outfit by 20 points last week. A mounting injury and unavailability toll caught up with TRYC and it's not certain to get any better this week as they look to manage their list heading into finals.

Coleambally put in another strong showing last week, pushing East Wagga-Koorringal to the limit before going down by nine points. The challenge for the Blues now is to produce that away from home, and against the best team in the competition.

It's been a better season than many would have expected at Coleambally and they won't want to let that slip now, despite finishing with the top three teams in the competition. This is their last away trip for the year so hopefully they can make the most of it and put in another competitive showing against a Magpies team that will be looking to make a point.

Prediction: TRYC by 67 points
